

LIONS ASK GIFTS FOR AID TO RUSSIA

Story Of Russian Education Like Fairy Tale - J. B. Bastedo

Must See That Education In All Nations Is Colored By Peace, After This War, Principal Says

The following account of education in Russia, Germany and Italy before the war was given by Principal J. B. Bastedo of Newmarket high school in an address before the Newmarket Lions club at the King George hotel Monday evening.

Speaking at an educational conference in 1920, Sir Auckland Geddes, then British ambassador to the United States, said: "The most vitally interesting thing to foreigners in connection with any national education is what I call its color. If your secretary of state knows the color of education in France, in Germany, in the British Empire, or in any country of the world, he will know well how the nation will be thinking 10 years hence."

In view of present-day circumstances, in which we find the world divided into two armed camps, I thought it might be interesting to see what has been the color of some educational systems that have been followed since we finished the "war to end war" some 24 years ago. Time will permit me to do this only in outline, and I will promise not to bore you with figures or educational statistics.

To begin with, in those countries that are now rallying around Great Britain to preserve the democratic way of life, education was colored by the hope born of the sacrifices and hardships of the last war, namely, the hope that war would be no more. And there was good reason for that; because did it not appear that democracy and freedom were at last to be brought within reach of all peoples when the covenant of the League of Nations was subscribed to by 58 member-nations? And not only through its political clauses, but also through its interest in such matters as international labor, health, economics, finance, traffic in women and children, the drug traffic, child welfare, etc., the League of Nations held out hope not only of a world at peace, but of a better world for the great masses of people.

In the ten years between 1920-1930 more international organizations—such as your Lions club here—were formed than had existed in all the years previous to the war; their purposes were manifold and varied, but they indicated the desire of peoples all over the world to understand each other better. The invention of the radio just at that time was also a great agent in promoting "good will among men"; and it might have accomplished great things if the dictator nations had not later denied their people the right to listen to foreign broadcasts.

Certainly it appeared that in the Great War democratic principles had triumphed over autocracy and that the common man or individual was to come into his own. Accordingly, in the post-war years social welfare services expanded enormously in most countries; governments became more interested in, acquainted with and responsive to the needs of the average citizen; public education took a more prominent place and was made available to the masses; adult especially on this continent, educational activities were undertaken; technical and vocational schools expanded rapidly; and enrolments in universities, reached a new high. With education came the extension of the franchise; and in most countries this included the women, who previously to the war had been denied the right in all nations but four.

All these evidences that the world, with a few exceptions, was progressing democratically and peacefully reached their zenith with the signing of the Briand-Kellogg Pact in 1922 by 62 nations. It seemed that Tenneyson's dream of "a parliament of man, a federation of the world," was about to come true; and that with no more outlays to make for war, our wealth, resources and human effort could be expended to produce a better and a more sensible human race. Under these circumstances, in the countries that still adhere to the democratic way of life, education was colored in the main by the observance of five basic principles:

- (1) The children of the schools should have free minds; by which is meant that the teacher aims to develop in pupils minds that are free and resourceful, minds capable of applying reason to new situations and discovering the truth, and minds powerful enough to resist attempts of other minds to dominate them.
- (2) Free teachers—permitted to have their own organizations, to enjoy the privileges of the average citizen, to work in various ways to promote education and not to be controlled in their thinking or teaching by some central government, committee, or party.
- (3) Free children, having the right to join voluntarily such organizations as the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Junior Red Cross, etc., without allowing any group or party or organization to separate the child from the influence of a good home.
- (4) Uncensored texts. By having a variety of textbooks that survive only when they are adequate and that can be publicly criticized at any time when they are

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY

Dvr. Douglas Sheridan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sheridan, Pleasantville, has been overseas for a year and a half. He celebrated his 23rd birthday recently.

SIX CITIZENS QUALIFY FOR VILLAGE TRUSTEES

Eleven nominations were filed at the third meeting of the ratepayers of the police village of Holland Landing on Monday evening. Polling day is set for Jan. 18. Samuel Deans was the only nominee to qualify on Dec. 23 and a new meeting was called for Jan. 4. Meanwhile it was found that through an error Marshall Evans, the returning officer, had not been sworn in. The proceedings up to then were declared illegal and the village still needed three trustees.

Six candidates qualified as follows: Henry Draper, carpenter, Samuel Deans, gardener, Arthur Foster, laborer, Barney O'Leary, gentleman, Aubrey Stephenson, foreman, Percy Thompson, farmer.

Bruce Foote and Percy Hutchinson were in London last week attending a tractor mechanics school.

Labor Problem Is Worse But Must Produce More

SAYS TOO MANY BOYS HAVE SLIPPED THROUGH SELECTIVE SERVICE

Cautious approval to a proposal for compulsory farm labor, originating with the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, was given by Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn in discussing the question with The Era and Express.

Mr. Cockburn criticized selective service officials for allowing farm lads to "slip through their fingers" into better paying industry.

"There wouldn't be the present shortage of labor if these young men had not been allowed to enter other industries," he said. "There should certainly be a strict check made before permission is granted. One boy near here left a farm to take a job in an industrial plant and now his brother is left alone to till 150 acres."

Mr. Cockburn said that an odd lad gets a military postponement because he has farm experience and then gets into industry.

"The local selective service officer in Newmarket checks with our office before he gives postponements or allows farm boys to leave for 'big money' in the city," he added. "This is splendid protection to the farmer."

Mr. Cockburn said that the farm labor situation is steadily getting worse, despite volunteer help. "While our labor is dropping off all the time we must increase production," he said.

He said that the government has asked farmers to attempt increases of ten percent in beef output, ten percent in butter, 15 percent in eggs and 25 percent in pork. "Last year, Canada produced more wheat and livestock than at any other time in her history."

AID TO RUSSIA FUND PUSHED BY LIONS CLUB

The Newmarket Lions club is giving leadership in a campaign for the "Aid to Russia Fund," believing that many of the citizens of Newmarket and the surrounding district would like to contribute to this worthy fund. All donations will be acknowledged through the local press and a complete list of donors sent to headquarters as well. The Lions club is starting the local subscription list with a donation of $100.

"It is more than probable, almost a certainty, that but for the fit of insanity that caused Hitler to attack Russia, many of the bombs that have reduced Stalingrad to a shambles would have fallen in Canada," stated H. E. Lambert, of the Newmarket club, general chairman of the campaign. "If every reader would pause for a moment and visualize the terrible suffering of these people, surely their hearts would go out to them and cause the fund to amount to a sum in larger measure adequate to the needs of this brave people."

"That our gift to Russia should be worthy of Canada and Canadians is a duty we owe to ourselves. As Charles Reade has written, much wrong is wrought by want of thought as well as want of heart. Let the future show that up to the present we have been thoughtless, but that from now on we will not be heartless, we will give, give, give as a duty to ourselves, to our self-respect."

"The Lions club are therefore full of hope that an adequate response will be made to this appeal. It is to be hoped that the citizens will not only aid this most worthy cause but put Newmarket on the map with the rest of the dominion in supporting this cause. We are appealing to the citizens to send in their donations before the end of the month."

"It was the intention of the members of the Lions club to make a general canvass, but they are now advised by the headquarters of the fund that since subscriptions are entirely voluntary."

Soldiers Put Blitz Tactics To Midland, 'Redmen' Score 6-2

Midland Shipbuilders Arrive Without Sweaters And After Putting Up Swell Fight Leave Without Shirts

By BILL HASKETT

Meet the new Newmarket Redmen.

They look like the best club to represent this town in O.H.A. circles since that memorable championship club of 1932-33. Of course they belong to the military camp, but all the hockey-minded folks in this town are going to call them their own before the season is over.

In the first hockey game of the season on Tuesday evening Newmarket camp defeated Midland by a 6-2 score on Newmarket ice.

Nick Bangay, one of the old reliable Bangay brothers from Markham, scored the first goal. The game had just gotten well under way when he slid the puck behind White at the 2.40 mark of the first period. Nesbitt, a Bradford boy, got an assist on the play.

The dubious honor of getting the first penalty went to Jack Wheeler, for boarding. This happened at the 3.15 mark.

McMaster got his first goal of the period at 13.20. Within five minutes he had added another. Simpel sandwiched one in between these two and at the end of the first period the score was Newmarket 3, Midland 1. Besides scoring two goals in this period, McMaster had White at his mercy twice. On both occasions he missed the open net.

Bob Bangay scored a goal in the period with Nesbitt in the net. Referee "Jock" Bennett didn't think that was playing fair and called it back.

In the second period, the camp defenceman, Shaw, twice brought the crowd to their feet when he went right through the Midland team, only to skate wide of the net.

Nesbitt scored the camp's lone goal in the second period, with an assist by Bob Bangay. Midland got their second one when Sager went through the camp team but hit the goal-post. Antonio was Johnny on the spot and slammed in the rebound.

In the third period Bob Bangay put on one of his sensational end-to-end rushes and parked the puck behind White for the only unassisted goal of the night. Brother Nick came back in less than a minute with the sixth goal.

Road Foremen Ask Better Pay For Selves, Workmen

WHITCHURCH ASKS TIME TO DEAL WITH WAGES REQUEST

"I think this matter should be deferred until we get the necessary figures to see what your request would mean in dollars," said Reeve George Leary to Messrs. Sandy Davis and Chaney Conner, two Whitchurch township road foremen, who appeared before the inaugural meeting on Monday asking for more pay for road work.

Mr. Davis suggested that the foremen be paid 45 cents an hour and the workmen 35 cents. The Reeve feared that the total increase would be a serious amount, and Deputy-Reeve Evans supported the Reeve in asking for time to investigate the magnitude of the demand.

A letter from Mrs. Chas. Toole expressed appreciation for the township wreath forwarded in memory of her husband and in respect for her son, the former Reeve, Earl Toole.

The clerk was instructed to get information from the Ontario municipal board concerning the disbursement of Clergy Reserve funds. It would not appear that these funds have to be disbursed but they may be if the council so elects. Last year on recommendation of the auditor $5,000 of this capital was doled out to the township schools, and there was some complaint about the distribution, which was really made by the school inspector.

Frank Bennet was granted $5 compensation for one sheep injured by dogs. The sheep had both shoulders torn open.

Newmarket Redmen of '43

from Camp Harkness brought joy to hundreds of their soldier buddies and a fair representation of civilians at Newmarket arena on Tuesday evening as they came up with a satisfying display to dunk Midland Shipbuilders 6-2.

The game was a typical early season encounter with both sets needing more practice and unable to take advantage of many golden opportunities to score because of lack of finesse and timing. While Sgt. McDonald's boys had an edge over the Midland boys all the way, they were not three times as good as the score might indicate.

Midland, presenting a mixture of old-timers and novices, were not beaten until the final five minutes and went down with colors flying and dead on their feet. Ernie Hughes, who played a strong game in the camp's cage, for instance, handled 34 pieces of rubber as compared to 32 by Morley White of Midland.

Hughes' shots were mostly from the blue line, it is true, but they were dangerous all the way. White, on the other hand, had the biscuit poured hot at him from in close mostly.

It was shortly past starting time when Col. R. B. Harkness, D.S.O., and Mayor L. W. Dales officially started proceedings, and from then on the veteran Jock Bennett was in charge of proceedings. Jock kept the game clean, picked the offside fearlessly and except for one or two faux pas of a minor nature did a good job with the whistle.

Nick Bangay and Shaw were the two outstanding players on the ice. Bangay tried all the way, got two goals and two assists. Shaw was a tower of strength both on the defence and attack. Hughes played well in goal. McMaster, Nichol and Nesbitt did a fine job. Bob Bangay, when he exerted himself, was good but that was on rare occasions.

Morley White, the visiting custodian, turned in a feature performance, and Buck Abbott on defence, and Fawc. Wilcox up front did too.

Our three-star selections would be Nick Bangay, Shaw and Morley White.

CELEBRATES 25TH BIRTHDAY

Vernon L. Sturdy, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Sturdy, Keswick, is with the R.C.N.V.R. He celebrated his 25th birthday on Jan. 8.

F. G. Cummings was returned as township assessor at a salary of $500. Councillor Eugene Baker asked if the pay wasn't extra good, but Reeve Leary and Councillor Leslie Harper didn't think it a bit high. They have both done the job.

W. H. Smith was added to the board of health in lieu of Russell Gray, resigned because of ill health. Elmer Starr is again weed inspector, and the township constables will share the work of sanitary inspection and school attendance officer.

HOW MUCH LONGER?

People who live in rural Ontario and see something of what farmers have been up against since the war began have little doubt about the justice of the complaints made at the meeting of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture in Toronto last week.

It is true that farmers have benefitted from the price ceiling (a grand job on the part of Ottawa, incidentally) on the things they buy, but the fact remains that prices were frozen at a time when farm and industrial prices were much out of alignment. That is true in spite of the fact that farm prices had worked up a little bit from depression levels.

This is obvious from the fact that industry can pay wages and cost of living bonuses that will attract help while the farmer, generally speaking, cannot pay sufficient wages to keep even his own sons on the farm.

The farmer is expected to produce great quantities of foodstuffs out of patriotism. The industrialist gets prices that will enable him to buy his materials and hire his labor in the open market, or he is subsidized. Or he may even be working on a cost-plus contract which enables some industrialists, as the Ontario Federation charges, to "hoard non-essential men in a manner which is not only wasteful but harmful to the war effort."

Newmarket people know that this charge is true from the information given them by some of their fellow citizens working in war plants.

To say that farmers are making good money, as some do say, is to lose perspective. Many farmers are putting money in the bank but they are not really making a profit. The money they bank is not adequate to pay themselves and their families a reasonable wage for their interminable hours, let alone give them a proper return on their investment.

Most farmers who are putting something aside are able to do so because they have what is really a low standard of living, a standard away below that of the industrial worker. They live in stove-heated houses, with no bathroom and no water running into the house. Often they are without electric lights. They have a table which is elaborate in the delectable products of the kitchen stove but which is in the winter-time too often poor in the imported and hot-house fruits and green and leafy vegetables which have become such a commonplace on the city table and which are so important to rugged health.

Agriculture has been treated as a peasant class from which enormous effort and great sacrifice can be expected, and unfortunately for their own good and for the future of country life too many agriculturalists haven't been able to see what is happening to them. It is a promising thing for Canada that there are so many farmers who regard themselves as human beings and that they have formed themselves together into these Federations of Agriculture to plead for a reasonable and decent standard of living for the farm.

We hope that Ottawa, which lengthened the civil service day to seven and a half hours recently, will listen in time to give our 12 to 16 hours a day mixed farmers a chance to build up a surplus of foodstuffs for the starving millions of Europe and Asia when the end comes and to help bring that end.

REVOLUTIONARY IF TRUE

A revolutionary statement is made in the Toronto Daily Star of Jan. 9. It is a challenge to our Ontario department of education, to our boards of education and to service clubs like our Newmarket Lions club. Read it:

"Experiments made at the Universities of Toronto and Chicago have shown that vitamin B, which is found in green, leafy vegetables, in eggs, meat and whole-wheat, has a decisive effect on the learning ability of children. In some tests, where the children were put on improved rations, remarkable heightening of their intelligence was achieved. In a Chicago orphanage, for example, it was discovered through a feeding experiment that low mentality in children could be raised to normal and that they could even become bright children by eating proper food over a period of time. What were thought to be mentally deficient children were just children who had been starved and whose parents had been underfed."

The Star goes on to say that permanent damage results from continued improper feeding.

Newmarket and district people have as much to gain from the dominion nutrition campaign as the people of any munitions industry centre. First, we should learn something more about the sort of food that we ought to be eating, and then we must do something about it.

Should the community do something about it in our schools? Could the Lions club make some of its remedial work unnecessary by contributing toward free milk, free cod liver oil, or free vitamin tablets to be distributed in the schools? Could the school board reduce the number of "repeaters," and the cost of education by providing a "vitamin lunch" in the schools.

We live in times of great discoveries. It is for us to make use of the knowledge which science is giving us so freely.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

IMPACT OF PEACE

(Bowmanville Statesman)

Recently we visited some wartime industrial plants. One was a huge, government-owned, mushroom establishment, employing thousands of workers of both sexes drawn largely from rural Canada. This plant with its new housing units is spread across former farmsteads. Our thoughts reached into the future; to the day the bells would ring out the "cease fire." We sought answers to these questions: What was to become of the plant and what of these workers when peace came? The moment the guns were silenced, their production must cease. That seemed completely conclusive. The impact of peace would be felt full force in all such war plants. Would it mean breadlines again or had the government planned and plotted against the inevitable? We asked direct, pointed questions.

The replies of directing officials, generally were: "We are not worrying about all that; our job at present is war-time production." We were left with the impression, whether right or wrong, that the government had no plans whatsoever to meet the situation. And employees themselves seemed completely unconcerned. The same attitude was evidenced generally among other long established industrial plants whose out-put today was almost wholly war-time commodities. With all this in mind, it seemed that the duty of the press lay in informing the public of the impressions gathered through these enquiries and these visits. If the situation is such as we have been led to believe, then the matter is one of the gravest concern. Are we to have the New Order we have heard so much about from responsible government sources? It would seem that we, the public, should begin to do something about it.

OAREB AND WPTB

(Fort Erie Times-Review)

In a bulletin issued by the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards, over the name of Charles E. Purnell, president, a strong and convincing protest is made against the order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board which provides for one-year's notice to vacate to tenants occupying houses sold after Dec. 9, 1942.

Claiming that the order has reduced to an absolute minimum sales of residential property in Canada, the bulletin makes this charge.

Rent control, first instituted as a measure to help prevent inflation, has now become almost complete control over the rights of those who own real property. The wedge has more than entered into the whole field of private ownership as regards housing accommodation and the situation is definitely producing a condition of exasperation in the minds of many earnestly loyal citizens.

One of the points stressed by Mr. Purnell is that it was not necessary to impose such drastic prohibitions on property sales to cure the evils which Donald Gordon, chairman of the WPTB, mentioned in his explanation of the one-year notice regulation. He quotes Mr. Gordon as saying, "it is for the protection of soldiers' dependents," and argues that if the rules had applied only to the houses occupied by that class of tenant "there would not have been the spontaneous, adverse reaction that has arisen."

The Times-Review has already recorded its objection to the regulation under discussion. We are still unconvinced that wartime conditions justify such a violation of the rights of property-owners. But if Mr. Purnell's suggestion had been followed, and the WPTB order had provided that only tenants who were soldiers' dependents had to be given one-year's notice to vacate, it is feared that those dependents eventually would have found themselves in a most difficult situation. Under such circumstances, would not landlords in general have been likely to discriminate against them as prospective tenants? Would a property-owner willingly rent his house to a soldier's dependent when he could get another tenant to whom only three-months' notice need be given?

IMPROVEMENT

(Barrie Examiner)

Shorter store hours and restrictions on the purchase of liquors, put into effect on Monday of this week by the Ontario Liquor Control Board, is a step in the right direction, though the resulting reduction of consumption may not be very great. The new hours give ample opportunity to buy and the patrons of the stores will soon accommodate themselves to the change. Limiting the number of bottles which may be bought in a month, and the discontinuance of the 25 percent permit should, however, bring a decrease in the purchases.

SOCIAL SERVICES

(Orillia Packet and Times)

Discussion of the proposal to establish medical health services in Orillia Township has again drawn attention to the weakness and unfairness of the present municipal system of taxation. This was probably the chief factor in bringing about the unfavorable verdict of the electors. The advantages of having a doctor who would give his whole time to efforts to maintain the health of the people, in accordance with modern ideas of preventive medicine, were manifest. The drawback was that the cost would not be equitably borne by the whole population of the township, but would fall entirely on owners of real estate. Non-residents would be called upon to pay for a service from which they would not benefit, while tenants would pay nothing, since there is no chance that rents could be raised.

It is manifest that, if social services are to be a municipal undertaking, the system of taxation will have to be broadened so that all who benefit by them will share in paying for their upkeep. Already the burden on real estate is crushing and unfair. And it tends to become increasingly so, with the result that people are being driven into smaller and smaller quarters, and owners of vacant land would in many cases be glad to give it away. Even the school taxes have become inequitable in their incidence, since tenancy has become the rule rather than the exception.

It is remarkable that, with the injustice and paralysing effect of the present system so manifest, no government or political party has yet had the initiative to put forward a comprehensive plan for remedying the situation. It is possible, of course, that relief may be found by the province taking over a larger share of the cost of education and social services. It is even hinted by the Hon. Mr. Kirby, minister of health for Ontario, that the federal government is considering a system of hospitalization for the whole dominion. Nothing can be much more certain than that the next forward move in social services will be in the direction of better protection for the health of the people, and providing hospital and medical care as a state responsibility, or on an insurance basis in which all will be compelled to join. The first question to be decided is what agency is to undertake the job—the federal government, the provinces or the municipalities. It is to be hoped there is not going to be expensive overlapping, as in other fields. But if the municipalities are to share in the work, then the first step, as a preliminary, is the complete revision of their system of taxation.

HAVE MANY DIFFICULTIES

(Dundalk Herald)

Bert Smith, editor of the Creemore Star, and himself a farmer before taking over the publication of that bright weekly, has this to say of members of his former calling:

"Farmers as a group have to contend with more difficulties than those in any other line of endeavor. They must have suitable weather to prepare their soil for seeding, and then again have suitable weather to gather in the crops. When the weather is unfavorable all plans are disturbed and accordingly serious losses or reduced income follow. When inclement weather conditions prevail for two or three years consecutively the tillers of the soil find themselves really up against it and through no fault of their own."

OLD PARTIES MUST WAKE UP

(Huntsville Forester)

(This interesting article from the Huntsville Forester appeared before the Progressive Conservative convention at Winnipeg.)

Warning the old parties that unless they "wake up from their present slumbers," they may suffer the humiliation of being numbered among the "has-beens" when the next election comes round, the Midland Free Press Herald sees the possibility of the C. C. F. making a strong bid for public favor, and possibly becoming so "powerful in both Ottawa and Toronto houses after the next election that life for the other fellows won't be any snap."

There are indications cropping up daily which lend color to the predictions made by the Free Press Herald. Undoubtedly the war has destroyed much of that buoyant feeling, prevalent in normal times, that the success of the party for the party's sake, is an essential part of government. Public opinion is likely to veer from this angle under the stress of war suffering, and there is every reason to believe that, unless the old parties revamp their procedure, and get a new vision of the essentials of public service, they stand in danger of being supplanted by some forward-looking movement which will reconstruct much of the nation's political thinking.

War-time discontent is inevitable. In the present war, the consequences of conflict have made a deeper impression on the public mind, than in any previous war. Taxation is more keenly felt; waste is recognized as a national offence; selfishness is abhorred; petty issues are submerged. The clamor is for serious recognition of the things which mean stability to the structure upon which we are to build the future.

These conditions cannot be met, nor the crying remedies for governmental weaknesses applied, unless there is a loosening of many prejudices which have bound us to systems stigmatized by selfish impulses.

The results of the war and its sacrifices are bound, as the Free Press Herald says, to find the people "in an extremely radical mood when the war ends." Political leaders, wearing the party stripes, can only meet this inevitable condition, by changing their course, lessening the stress on party interests, and shaping policies to definitely conform to the new thinking which is manifesting itself everywhere throughout the country.

The C. C. F. presents a definite program for action in the process of building a new world. It is in some respects radical,—perhaps too radical in some of its features to attract favorable attention from some who look longingly for a change. But much in the form of radicalism will be tolerated, unless there is a sincere effort made by the existing parties to mould a new form of political outlook, which will embrace the essentials of the new life for which people will be longing when the conflict now raging is over, and toward which they desire to see definite and dependable foundations laid now.

It may be accepted without reservation, that the old conception of partisanship, and the old formula of "party before country," must in large measure go into the discard. New conceptions of public responsibility must be recognized, and if there is no evidence of a definite trend in the new direction which the fates of war have thrown athwart our old-time pathway, the foundations of selfish partyism will die as certainly as Hitlerism is doomed to do.

The slickest piece of burglary that has ever been reported in this town took place at the post office Tuesday night. Though the cash till and the safe were rifled, not a lock was broken or a scratch of a tool made. All the locks were opened with keys. Every cent of cash and ever stamp were taken, amounting to about $70. The burglary was evidently the work of an expert and there is no clue as to his identity.

The thermometer registered from 22 to 20 below zero this week. The sleighing continues good, except a few of the country roads that have been blown bare. There was only about four inches of snow.

"This is your first offence but if you ever come back here again you will be severely dealt with." Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe warned a 17-year-old Aurora boy in Newmarket on Tuesday. His worship found the youth guilty of assaulting Henry Wong, Aurora restaurant proprietor, on Dec. 20, and fined him $5 and costs of $3.75 or ten days. In addition, he heard the accused swear in the sum of $50 to keep the peace for six months and forbade him to enter any Chinese restaurants in Aurora for that period.

"The restaurant people have just as much right to live peacefully as anyone else," continued his worship. "You have no right to go into that place and create a disturbance."

According to Mr. Wong, at about 12 p.m. on Dec. 20, a large number of people came into his restaurant and as there were not enough seats to accommodate them, he asked the defendant and his girl companion if they would get up and let someone else have their seats. He said that the youth had purchased a bottle of pop for himself and a cup of coffee for his friend and had been sitting in the restaurant for about half an hour.

"I asked him to get up and let some other people sit down and he swore at me," testified Mr. Wong. "I asked him what he said and he swore at me again. I told him to get up. He took hold of me and tried to make me get out the front door but I would not go. He went away. He came back again. I told him to go away. He took hold of me. He tried to fight with me."

The witness said that in the scuffle his glasses fell on the floor and were broken. "What condition was he in?" asked Crown Attorney N. L. Matheson, K.C.

"I do not know whether he was sober or not," replied the witness. "Did he hit you in the face?"

"Yes, I put up my arm to try to protect myself," replied Mr. Wong. "Stuart Chong, who said that he worked in Mr. Wong's restaurant, told his worship that he saw the youth go out of the restaurant and return with a gang."

He said that he saw the youth and tried to put him across the table.

In his defence the youth said that he and his girl friend had been seated for only five or ten minutes when Mr. Wong told him to give up his seat. He said that when he came back a second time after leaving his friend across the street, Mr. Wong came out of the kitchen after him and started to fight again. He denied striking the restaurant manager but admitted "scrambling" with him.

Questioned by Magistrate Woodliffe as to whether he went back to the restaurant to fight, the youth denied that that was his intention, but admitted that he knew that he would have got into a fight if he went back.

"You've had trouble like this before," accused the crown.

The youth admitted that he had been in some trouble before at a "house" hall.

"You caused trouble wherever you go," commented the crown. "You think that you can cause trouble for the Chinaman. You think that because you go into the restaurant and buy a five-cent bottle of pop that you own the place."

In behalf of the defendant, a Newmarket man testified that he had been seated opposite the accused and saw Mr. Wong try to put him out of the restaurant. Cross-examined by the crown the witness admitted that he himself had had trouble with the police for creating a disturbance.

Testifying that he saw Mr. Wong "grab" the defendant, another Newmarket man said that he didn't hear any swearing, and that having been told by the youth what to say in his testimony, Cross-examined by the crown, the witness admitted that he also had had trouble with the police.

"I am not much impressed by the story you tell of the stories your witnesses tell," Magistrate Woodliffe advised the youth.

"I am satisfied that you went back to get into trouble. You were told to get out and you would have stayed out. You knew perfectly well that if you went back there would be a fight. I find you guilty of assaulting Mr. Wong."

Found guilty of travelling at 20 miles an hour on Yonge St., Walter C. S. Bell, Beeton, and Pilot Officer William E. Lang, Camp Borden, were each fined $15 and costs. A fine of $1 and costs was imposed on Hugh Tomper, Elgin Mills, for having insufficient lights on his truck. In each case Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson laid the charge.

WINTER HAPPENINGS

By Isabel Inglis Colville

"How the wind howls," said mother on Sunday night as we sat before the fire enjoying the cheerful blaze, but with an ear for the eerie voices which seemed to call down the chimney, and then float away on ghostly wings.

"It's not the SOUND of the wind I'm worrying about, it's what it will do to all this snow," said the man of the house, as Huldah came in looking like an animated snowman.

Well, next morning we knew what the wind had done. I waited to hear the car leave the yard, but saw only shovels full of snow flying in all directions, and then the backing and going forward, till at last it disappeared in a swirl of snow, only to have to be dug out again.

Later in the morning, looking from a window, up which the snow had climbed half way, I saw my birds coming and only a snowy world to welcome them. "So," thought I, "I'll go off and feed them."

Armed with a broom, and a dish of food and wheat, I opened the porch door and stepped out. "Where am I?" I wondered dazedly, as I stepped into a mass of white which came to my waist.

Struggling along I faced the north and a bitter wind blew snow in my face, as I hastily cleared a space and deposited my offerings and stuck suit all over the tree. I'll swear Woolly laughed as she watched my efforts to keep upright in the places where ice lurked underneath the snow, and I staggered back into the house, vowing if this is a real Canadian winter I hoped it would be short.

But when I regained my breath and my temper, the beauty of it all struck me—and I felt as if I had been transplanted bodily into one of Hans Andersen's fairy tales.

From the tallest tree to the smallest shrub, everything had been transformed into a snowy replica of itself—there was a certain unreality about it all, as if a spell of silence had been cast over the world, for no car passed, no sound but the wind's voice broke the stillness, and only served to accentuate it, as if it were part of that strange, unreal world, and we were not.

Then the spell was broken: there was the jolly sound of sleigh-bells, and along the road came two sleighs bearing milk cans to the beleaguered milk truck. Then the silence settled again, to be broken this time by the strange whirr a pheasant makes in flight, and then, to where the food lay, came three magnificent cock pheasants and a drab little lady bird. Like iridescent globes, they sat upon their cold toes and pecked about them, while a whole flock of vivid bluejays fed close to them and chipmunks and song sparrows and juncos and English sparrows pecked amiably about and the peckers wrestled with a bone put there for their special enjoyment.

Against the white background, these vividly colored beauties looked like a huge Christmas card.

Then, at some sound unheard by me, they rose like a bright cloud and were gone, while I turned to the more mundane task of making a plum dumpling for dinner.

The kitchen looked warm and cosy; mother sat peeling potatoes and the two cats, hushed into armed neutrality by the desire for heat, lay close to the fire, but the very comfort and peacefulness of the scene made me think guiltily of those who once knew these homely comforts and are now enduring unthinkable hardships that this very way of life may live.

These thoughts are good for us and spur us on to further efforts to help the war effort, but, meantime, we have duties and mine just then was the plum dumpling.

Do you make it this way? For the three of us, I take a large cup of flour, sift with it two teaspoons baking powder and one-third teaspoon of salt. Then cut in two level tablespoons of shortening. Mix to a soft dough and divide into three rounds.

Have your plums stoned and your dish ready. I like a coffee can, the high kind we used to get. Grease it well, lay one round of your dough in, cover well with the plums, add your next round and cover with fruit again. Top with your last round of dough, cover your can and plump it into a saucepan of boiling water, one with a well fitting lid, and boil steadily one hour. Make a good sauce, and then enjoy it.

And so the day went on, no cars, no mail, just snow and more snow, and inside bright fires and furry, purry cats.

Then the man of the house getting through the storm somehow to reach the safe sanctuary of home, and so, came the end of the day, but not of the storm.

MRS. FRANK BOTHWELL IS PRESIDENT OF W. A.

At the January meeting of the Woman's Association of Trinity United church, Mrs. Frank Bothwell, the new president, was in the chair.

Mrs. Bothwell gave a beautiful prayer while quiet music was played by Mrs. Henry Cotton.

Mrs. R. D. Brown, accompanied by Mrs. Cotton, sang two beautiful solos, "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way," and "Keep On Hoping."

Prayer was offered by the president, after which "Give Peace O God, Give Peace" was sung.

Mrs. Robert Pritchard took charge of the devotional exercises, reading the fifth chapter of II Cor., 1-17. The speaker said "Old things are passed away and all things become new when Christ comes into our hearts. Let your light shine before men. Courage and trust follow faith. Christ is the never failing light of the world."

Tribute was paid to the late Mrs. L. Atkinson and prayer was offered by Rev. Henry Cotton.

Reports were given by Mrs. O. P. Hamilton, Mrs. Harry Hooker and Mrs. Ross Howlett. Letters were received from those on

obviously do not meet requirements, we are keeping far away from the worst evil in the dictatorship educational systems. Our textbooks may not be perfect, but heaven forbid that we should even permit them to become media for spreading dogmas dictated by a Hitler, a Mussolini, or any other autocrat!

(5) Free courses of study. In democratic countries the courses of study are varied to suit the needs of the students of urban and rural localities, of various provinces or divisions, etc. And, while here again, we may not always approve of the courses and their administration, the very strength of the democratic system of education is to be found in the flexibility and the lack of uniformity of the courses offered.

It is worthwhile noting these five bulwarks of democracy from an educational point of view—free minds, free children, free teachers, uncensored texts, and free courses of study.

Education Under Dictatorship and in Democracies

And now, in turn, let us examine the color of the educational systems of Russia, Italy and Germany between 1918 and 1939. Oddly enough, we may ascribe definite colors to them—the Red Communists of Russia, the Black-shirted Fascists of Italy, the Brown-shirted Nazis of Germany.

The courageous and effective stand of the Russians against Hitler's powerful army has aroused the admiration of Canadians and all people of the world—except possibly the Germans; and no doubt we have more than once asked ourselves what has been the educational background of these people who have stood up to Hitler's so-called unconquerable army? At the outset, I would like to submit that, in my opinion, Russia has had two educational programs since 1918, and to understand Russia's transformation we must study them both.

The first educational program of Soviet Russia was to educate in communism over 150 million people of many races and tongues, three-quarters of whom could neither read nor write. And without going into details of the floundering about and the confusion that characterized the coming of communism in Russia, the aims of their education system might be briefly summed up as follows: "The capitalistic order must be destroyed in the world and communism take its place. But before that can be attained there must be a period, probably a prolonged period, of proletarian dictatorship which will take absolute control of education and use it to train up generations capable of finally establishing communism. In every phase of the two distinct divisions of education—schools for the younger generation, and institutions for the political enlightenment and professional training of adults—the doctrines of the proletarian dictatorship were and are the only ones that can be presented to or be considered by the learners."

Since their educational system was set up in November, 1918, the Soviet Union has changed several times the organization of instruction, kinds of institutions, etc., the latest coming in 1937; but many of the later changes in methods of teaching, courses of study in history and geography, and the use of textbooks, were reactions against the excesses of the early revolutionary years. In its educational program the state has taken over control of theatres, radio, museums, libraries, newspapers and all forms of literature—or, in a word, practically the entire cultural life of the nation.

In addition, it has organized its young people into various youth movements, has attempted to remove class distinctions from the schools, make education nation-wide, grant women equal rights with men, wipe out illiteracy, abolish anti-Semitism, further technical and vocational education and connect it more closely with the daily life of the people; and, last but not least, to draw on the wealth of the Union to accomplish these purposes. All of which, you will say, are worthy aims; but we must not lose sight of this point: the main purpose behind it all was not necessarily to develop free human beings capable of thinking and acting for themselves, but it was to educate the masses, especially the young, in the doctrine of communism as a way of life.

The second educational program of Soviet Russia has actually produced the Russia that has surprised the outside world, and most of all, the cock-sure gangsters that surround Adolf Hitler. I am referring, of course, to Russia's progress in the field of science since the last war. The full story reads like a fairy tale; and, if you are interested, it appeared in the "National Home Monthly" for February, 1942, under the pen of Dyson Carter. He points out that while Russian politics, religion and economics may confuse us, in the field of science facts are still facts. Time will permit me to touch only the high spots of his article:

In 1917 both Britain and Russia established state control of science. But whereas in Britain after the war scientific research became rather hopelessly tied up, in Russia a policy of driving full speed ahead was put into effect and it was one policy that never wavered. At one time or another everything and everybody in the Soviet Union starved, except science and scientists.

In 1917 the Soviets had only 210 research laboratories; in 1937 they had 2,200 such centres; and thru these they mastered technique, or "science in action."

In 1917, as I have said, Russia had 120 million people who could not read or write; by 1937 the Soviet had nine million technicians—people who understood science and could use it readily.

In 1921 some Russian scientists drew up plans for the great Dnieper dam, a project so enormous that no Russian or European engineer would tackle it. American aid was secured and it was completed. In 1941 the Red army blew it up rather than have it fall into Nazi hands; the outside world believed that Russia had blown away its power supply and industrial output. We know now that in the 20 years Russian science had provided scores of giant power stations throughout the Union, and the loss of the Dnieper dam did not cripple their war effort.

In 1931 Stalin made a speech containing several remarkable predictions. He said: "We are now a hundred years behind the advanced countries. We must make good this distance in ten years. Either we do this in ten years, or they crush us."

Exactly ten years later when the Nazis struck—as Stalin firmly believed they would—Russia had accomplished "the impossible" and stood ready to resist a German army supported by the industry of practically all Europe. With science Russia had armed herself as no nation was ever armed before. Here, in brief, is how it was done:

The idea that science can bring a better world was spread to every citizen of the Union, who proved apt pupils and studied as soldiers fight a war, covering subjects in one-tenth the time taken by our universities.

Farmers, workers and industrialists were urged to send their ideas or problems to the nearest science centres. Tests were made, results were tried out by workmen, farmers, etc.; impractical ideas were thrown out before they could slow things up, and useful ones were rushed into industrial production on a large scale.

Unlimited cash was available, not only for research work, but also for the training of young people who showed aptitude for science but lacked finances to continue their education—and this applied to high school as well as university students.

Science ceased to be high-brow and all red-tape was eliminated where it was concerned, because not only the research work but much of the planning and political management in the government was in the hands of trained scientists. Stalin told business executives and managers: "You learn scientific technique immediately, or you get out." Voroshilov repeated this to the armed forces and staffed the three services with officers who had mastered the weapon of science.

Provision was evidently made for Stalin's "leapfrog" strategy, which briefly was this: As the Germans advanced, factory equipment was dismantled and shipped to locations further inland, and so perfect was the organization that huge plants were sometimes in full working operation within ten days. And the remarkable part of it is that few workers were moved; they stayed behind to fight, and their places were taken by other workers inland who had been trained under the scheme.

Whatever we may think of the first program I outlined, we must admit that this second program was timely, effective and brilliantly executed. It bids fair to knock Hitler for a loop, as the saying goes, before winter is up—and in that, our hopes and best wishes are with our Russian allies.

Of the Axis dictators, Mussolini came on the stage first; and, without going into the political situation in Italy at the time he became its leader, I will briefly summarize the Fascist philosophy of this man who has dictated Italy's policy, including education, for two decades:

"The ideals of the National Fascist party are declared to be a religion; no power can stop the Italian people in their move toward an empire like the old Roman empire; Italy created modern civilization and should now lead a world advance; peace is a hateful, cowardly thing; war brings out the best that is in mankind."

By these and similar philosophies adult Italians were compelled to live, their children were reared and their minds formed; teachers were forced to develop young minds by such patterns because in Italy all education was controlled by a ministry that had an opportunity to do a real service, because Italy had a history upon which a glorious future might have been built; but behind its improvements in the way of care for pre-school children and their mothers, high average of school attendance, reduced illiteracy, good school buildings and excellent physical training for all students, stood the Fascist leaders waiting to use these reforms to further their own purposes.

The F. state was determined to take the children from their parents—that is, in the sense that the child was trained to put loyalty to the state above loyalty to parents, self, family or religion; the state was determined to control their thinking through mass organization and to bind their minds in such a way that they would act automatically to the will of their leader or group of leaders.

Forcing the teaching of fascist doctrines into the educational system did not make sufficiently fast progress to suit the leaders, so changes were quickly made until by 1928 the forming of any new organizations for promoting the physical, moral and spiritual education of Italian youth was forbidden, and it was decreed that there could be no youth organization except the National Balilla Foundation; this was under the control of the education ministry until 1937 and then placed under the direct control of the Fascist party.

Under this scheme every Italian child from the age of 2 to 22 spent the Saturday afternoons and after-school hours of other days under the instruction of Fascists, who gave their education a color that cannot easily be taken out of their adult mentalities. Both boys and girls wore uniforms, were organized into squads, maniples, legions, etc.—like Caesar's army of old—and a visitor to any part of Italy could see children of all ages drilling and being regimented by both men and women teachers—all in Fascist uniform.

The minds of trusting, helpless children—for such many of the younger ones were—were not being led into new spheres of liberal knowledge, but were being betrayed into preparation for war by an appeal to their natural love of play, color, adventure and life outdoors.

It is an awful fact that right here in Canada, in some of the so-called Italian language schools, young new Canadians were being trained to repeat the Fascist oath:

"In the name of God and of Italy, I swear to execute the orders of Il Duce and to serve with all my strength and, if it is necessary, with my life; the cause of the Fascist revolution."

And so it was that when Mussolini, in 1940, moved to stab France in the back, he had but to say the word, and the trained, regimented Blackshirts stepped out to satisfy his personal ambitions and self-aggrandizement.

Germany's economic state, brought about by post-war conditions and the general depression, set the stage for the Nazi revolution that swept Hitler and his gang into power. They used the fascist movement in Italy as a pattern, but brought Nazism to

SISTERS SET NEW YORK ON FIRE

"My Sister, Eileen" on the screen is said to be even more uproarious than the original stage success. Rosalind Russell and Janet Blair are shown above as the sisters from Ohio who set New York on fire, with the aid of Brian Aherne. The picture plays Wednesday and Thursday at the Strand theatre.

Germany with more fanatic zeal and with swifter and more drastic action than had been used in Italy. There the crown and church had acted somewhat as a check, and neither was violated; but in Germany there was no crown and the Nazis early repudiated the Christian religion and closed off the opposition from the churches by force. There was no floundering about, as there had been with the introduction of communism into Russia; change was orderly and even with an outward appearance of legality. Having once gained power, the Nazi leaders lost no time in going to work—and they started with the educational system.

They first disbanded all teachers' organizations, forced all teachers into a national-socialist union and compelled them to fall in line with the party's policies—whether they were in the elementary and secondary schools or in the universities. Concentration camps or worse were used to punish those who dared to resist. For the oncoming generation of teachers, new training schools were established which gave the Nazi party absolute control of the teachers throughout the state. Every German teacher had either to take this oath or the consequences mentioned above:

"Adolph Hitler, we swear that we will train the youth of Germany so that they will grow up in your ideology, for your aims and purposes in the direction set by your will. This is pledged to you by the whole German system of education from the primary school through to the university." It is to the everlasting credit of some German teachers and professors that they suffered torture and death rather than yield their principles to such an oath.

Like the Fascists in Italy, the Nazis regimented their children from ten to 21 into the Hitler youth movement and practically took them out of their parents' hands.

And what are the so-called principles or Nazi-creed that German children have been taught? Listen to them: "Nordic superiority, with history taught in such a way as to instill a thorough belief that the Germans are the chosen people; the inferiority of all non-Aryan elements and the necessity for their subordination or expulsion; maintenance of racial purity; the inferiority of women to men; careful physical training as a basis for military service; and the existence of the individual not for himself but for the state, and the embodiment of the state in one person—Adolf Hitler."

These are not educational principles; they are dogmas, meant to be jammed into the minds of youth by dictatorial force; and that is not education. "The school is no longer just an engine of education but also a political training centre which must establish a uniform tradition." (From a broadcast at Stuttgart in Feb. 1941).

"Hitler himself lays down the task of education. Our Fuehrer says: 'who wishes to live should fight, and those who will not fight in a world of eternal struggle do not deserve to live.'" (From a German home broadcast on Apr. 22, 1941).

What are the results of such education? (1) The minds of millions of young Germans polluted politically and morally to such an extent that only a sound beating and supervision for at least one generation will knock it out of them; (2) The admission by German newspapers and parents "that the increasing use of children and juveniles for compulsory agricultural and factory work and long hours of military training is having a seriously detrimental effect upon their education" (Hamburger Fremdenblatt of Mar. 20, 1941);

and the same paper pointed out on Feb. 11 last, "Examples seem to confirm the assertion that the growing generation is less intelligent than its predecessor. The professional schools complain that they can hardly fulfil their task, as they must waste time in teaching elementary subjects"—which, evidently, the students have not covered as they once did in the lower grades.

These facts were corroborated by an article in the Reader's Digest some time ago which pointed out that Germany is woefully lacking in proper medical services, there being only one doctor for every 35,000 of its population. Imagine this condition in a country which three generations ago stood among the leaders in the field of medical science! The cause of this partly lies in the fact that many of their medical professors were of Jewish extraction and were brushed off before others had been trained to replace them. Many others were liquidated. Other professions have suffered similarly, I presume.

National Health Plan Is Radio Forum Topic

The Newmarket East farm radio forum held its first meeting of the winter series on Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McNern, on the fourth concession, East Gwillimbury.

The topic for the evening was: "How can the farmer take part?" After listening to the broadcast, groups were formed to discuss the work of various types of farm organizations, in relation to wartime production and the reconstruction of agriculture.

Mrs. Wm. Wilnot gave a brief talk concerning the lectures which she attended while at the refresher course held recently at O.A.C., Guelph. The Newmarket East farm forum chose Mrs. Wilnot as its delegate to attend the co-operative short course at O.A.C.

Everyone is invited to attend the next meeting, which is to be held on Monday evening, Jan. 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilnot, fourth concession.

The topic is: a national health plan, what would best serve all farmers of all Canada? The place of provincial and municipal health schemes in such a plan.

The Era and Express office is open daily from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. except on Saturday, when it is open from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

munistic, Fascist and Nazi education of the past 20 years. "What of the future?" you may ask. We must see to it that when we win the war this time, we must also win the peace; a League of Nations committee—backed by an international army—should see to it that education in all nations is colored by peace; and last, but not least, we should guard jealously, both now and then, the fundamental principles upon which our educational system and governing institutions shall preserve for us a truly democratic way of life, as we have known it, and still know it, in the British empire.

Several are sick with heavy colds.

Mrs. Kenneth Boothby entertained at a birthday party for her brother, Pte. Alex. Marritt, who was home on a week's leave from Petawawa.

Miss Ruth Knights is quite sick and under the doctor's care.

The Dorens society met at the home of Mrs. McGill on Thursday.

Fireside Chats

Every week thousands of readers of The Era and Express sit down by their own firesides to discuss together each other's wants.

One wants to sell some pigs; two or three others want to buy them. One wants to let a house; several persons want to rent it. One wants to sell a baby-carriage; someone is anxious to buy it. Somebody has lost a ring; someone else has found it. Somebody has laying hens for sale; several people would like to buy them.

Someone offers a Chesterfield suite; several families are interested, and one family, after inspection, is exactly suited with regard to style and price.

Another offers a girl's skates and boots, in good condition but too small for the owner; half a dozen people would like them.

A lady has a good winter coat for sale; someone wants it.

Isn't this opportunity to discuss together mutual wants a wonderful service and convenience? Think of all the time, gasoline and rubber the classifieds save!

Sometimes, mind you, nobody wants to buy a particular article at the particular time or particular price at which it is offered for sale—but, even so, what a saving of energy and time it is to be able to find that out for 25 or 50 cents.

Usually, however, with one, two or three insertions, the classifieds bring together buyer and seller, landlord and tenant, finder and loser.

The rate for one insertion, up to 25 words, is 50 cents or only 25 cents if payment is made within a week.

IN MEMORIAM

Birt—In loving memory of John Birt who passed away in the Lake Simcoe drowning tragedy on Jan. 14, 1938.

There's a face that is haunting us ever,
There's a voice we're longing to hear;
There's a smile we'll remember forever
Though we try to forget every fear.

There's a sad but sweet remembrance,
There's a memory fond and true.
There's a token of affection
And heartache, dear Jack, for you.

Remembered always by wife,
Edith and Perry.

Case—In loving memory of our dear mother, Margaret Case, who passed away Jan. 13, 1942.

Gone into the light that shines so fair,
Gone from the earth of sorrow and care.
Resting those hands that did their best,
Lovingly remembered by sons,
John, Walter and their families.

Cumber—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Thomas George Cumber, who went home Jan. 16, 1940.

For the dead I will not bind
My soul to grief;
Death cannot long divide
For it is not as though the rose
That climbed my garden wall
Has blossomed on the other side?

Death doth hide,
But not divide;
Thou art but on Christ's other side;
Thou art with Christ, and Christ
With me,
In Christ united still are we.
Ever remembered by wife and children.

Morton—In loving memory of our dear mother, who passed away Jan. 8, 1939.

Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory fond and true,
Just a token of affection
And a heartache still for you.

More and more each day we miss you,
Though our thoughts are not revealed,
Little do they know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts can be healed.

Ever remembered and sadly missed by Vera and Melvin.

Nelson—In loving memory of our dear son, Emanuel Nelson, and his companions, who lost their lives on Jan. 14, 1938.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far away for thoughts
To reach.

Sweet to remember him who once was here,
And though absent, is just as dear.
Sadly and lovingly remembered
By father, mother, brother and sisters.

Nelson—In tender memory of a dear husband and daddy, Emanuel Nelson, who, with three companions, lost his life in the Lake Simcoe tragedy on Jan. 14, 1938.

Till memory fades and life departs
You'll live forever in our hearts.
Fondly remembered by wife,
Vera, and children, Glenna, Leonard and Joan.

Bogers—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Fred Bogers, who passed away Jan. 13, 1942.

From our happy home and circle
God has taken one we loved.
He is home away from sin and sorrow
To a nobler rest above.
No one knows how much we miss him.

None but aching hearts can tell,
Lost on earth, but found in Heaven
Jesus doeth all things well.
Lovingly remembered by wife and children.

Toole—In loving memory of our sister, Florence Loretta Toole, who departed this life on Jan. 14, 1938.

The rolling stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the form, the voice, the smile
Of the one who once sat there.
Ever remembered by her sisters

The annual Christmas party for the children of war veterans, and of those now serving in this war, was held on Friday evening in the town hall. In spite of the severe cold weather there was a good turnout of the children, but not as many of the parents as usual.

Veteran "Bill" White was master of ceremonies and kept things going in his usual breezy style with the aid of a microphone. He was ably assisted in the program by Mrs. E. R. Pollock at the piano and a quartet from the military camp, which was introduced as "The Snappy Gang."

The different numbers on the program were interspersed with community singing, both of the old-time war songs and those now in vogue. At the conclusion of the entertainment came the part which all the children enjoyed best of all, hot dogs, cookies and chocolate milk.

He married Susan Wrightman, who predeceased him in 1925. Of this union, five sons, Robt. Indian Head, Sask., Leslie, Dauphin, Man., Coleman, with the Canadian army overseas, Leonard, Newmarket, and Stanley, with the Canadian army overseas, and four daughters, Mrs. David Harkins (Rosabelle), Hamilton, Mrs. Carl Johnston (Ida), and Zella, both living in Manitoba, and Mrs. Harry Sippets (Maude), Winnipeg, survive. On Sept. 13, 1930, he married Claudia McMahon, who survives him.

The funeral service was held at the Salvation Army chapel on Tuesday afternoon. Capt. F. W. Brightwell, assisted by Rev. L. E. Sparks, conducted the service. Interment was made in Newmarket cemetery.

The pallbearers were Wm. Wrightman, Alfred Kirbyson, John Wrightman, Jas. Pemberton, Albert Bain and T. E. Woodruff.

JOHN KEETCH DIES AT 83, HAD BEEN FARMER

In poor health for a number of years, but able to be up and about until two months ago, John Keetch died at his home in Newmarket on Sunday. He was in his 84th year.

Born near Sutton, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Keetch. Mr. Keetch farmed all his life until about 18 years ago, when he retired, coming to Newmarket to live. He attended the Salvation Army chapel.

CLASSIFIEDS CAN BE OF SERVICE TO YOU

CLASSIFIEDS CAN BE OF SERVICE TO YOU

King City, Ontario rural champions of 1942, opened their 43rd campaign Thursday night with a stirring display, as they calomined the newly formed Ordnance Depot team 8-0 in a game which, while one-sided, was crowd-pleasing all the way.

The King team, minus five or six of last year's players, have found capable replacements and on their opening performance will be hard to beat. Ordnance presented only two of three experienced players, but the rest of the team were gamecocks all the way and never stopped trying right to the end. A couple of counters would have been a fitting reward for their efforts.

After a scoreless opening five minutes, with play see-sawing, Ross Follitt broke from the defence and teamed up with Doug Palmer to beat Charlie Case from close in. The duo reversed things two minutes later as Palmer sent home the puck. Jimmy Hood closed the period with a fine line rush to pay-dirt.

Palmer scored twice in the second period and Hood once to make it an even half dozen.

In the last period the soldier boys really went out but Herbie Yeake handled their blitz attack coolly. From ganging attacks, the veteran Leon, Shropshire broke away twice to score.

Cpl. Ken Brown, home on leave from Niagara, referred the game to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The game was exceptionally clean. Only two penalties, both to Neil McArthur of King for minor offences, were handed out.

For the winners Doug Palmer, the sturdy Maple boy, was the best man on the ice, picking up five scoring points. Lloyd and Follitt proved a stonewall defence, and Yeake in goal was steady.

Heading the losers' cause was the work of Charlie Case in goal. Pte. Case battled hard against his mates of last year and stopped the proverbial million. Farley, on the forward line, showed to advantage throughout, while Burke and Townsley played fair games. The rest of the boys will look much better with practice.

King: goal, H. Yeake; defence, Follitt and Lloyd; centre, Shropshire; wings, Palmer and Hood; subs, Huck Young, Neil McArthur, Angus McArthur and Dave Stewart.

R.C.O.C.: goal, Case; defence, Collins and Burke; centre, Townsley; wings, White and Rothwell; subs, Quinn, Dunstall, Farley, Treas and Mills.

Queen's Yorks Found In Nearly All Active Units

Queen's Yorks Found In Nearly All Active Units

No less than 12 former officers of this unit now hold the rank of lieutenant-colonel or better. Lieutenant-Col. John Hyde Bennett, V.D., officer commanding the 2nd battalion, Queen's York Rangers, said at the annual dinner of the warrant officers and sergeants held on Saturday evening at Fort York armory.

"Our regiment is really the oldest unit on the American continent, but through lapse is only considered the twelfth oldest in the Canadian militia," said Col. Bennett. "We sent a whole company to the Irish regiment, the complete personnel of No. 1 reception camp under Col. Merle to England, as well as officers and men by the hundreds to other units, before our regiment was mobilized."

"Almost every unit overseas has men of the Rangers in their ranks. When we speak of the regiment we include them all. Our present reserve battalion is just as good as any Rangers that ever stepped and will take their place when the time comes."

Mentioned by Col. Bennett were Col. Hector McNeil, aide to Major-General McArthur, Lieut.-Col. Harold Bruehl, assistant master-general, Ordnance, Lieut.-Col. Medhurst, O.C. of the New Brunswick Rifles, Lieut.-Col. Murray Muir, O.C. of the North Bay camp, Lieut.-Col. Jack McElrath, O.C. of the Winnipeg Rifles, Lieut.-Col. Dinsmore and

The dinner was held in the brigade room with R.S.M. Lewis Jowett presiding. Guests included Col. Bennett, Major Capt. Reeve, Major J. A. Paull, Capt. Earl Bales, Capt. Jos. Richardson, Capt. Stewart Lanskall, Lieut. W. W. Gardhouse, Lieut. William Hunt and Lieut. Richard Mitchell of the county unit, Major Donald Findlay, acting O.C. of the 1st battalion, Q.Y.R., and representatives from the sergeants' mess of the active Rangers, Q.O.R., Toronto Scottish, R.C.O.C., R.C.A.S.C., 18th Highlanders, Irish Regiment and the navy.

An impressive moment was when with lights out, Last Post and Reveille were sounded as a silent toast to members of the unit who have passed on.

Toast to the king was proposed by C.S.M. William Stocks, toast to the county of York was proposed by Sgt. J. Granger and responded to by Lieut. W. W. Gardhouse on behalf of Warden Earl Toole. Toast to the regiment was proposed by C.S.M. Percy Lovell and replied to by Col. Bennett, Major Findlay and Major Reeve.

"We have given over half our total income to our active battalion to help out things, and we sent a donation to the Reception Camp overseas," said Major Reeve. "We still try to aid them again this year."

At the request of Fire Chief Harry Jones, the Aurora town fathers clarified the fire department's position regarding fire calls in King Township on Monday evening.

By a unanimous vote the council passed a resolution, moved by Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Guntton and seconded by Mr. A. Malloy, which reads: "Since the township of King has agreed with Aurora, then the fire chief is hereby authorized not to answer fire calls from the township until further notice."

Since last October, when Aurora gave the township 30 days notice of the termination of the old agreement, many township residents have thought that calls would still be answered by Aurora. Fortunately no calls have come through to date but as the matter is now presumably an end will be answered.

Negotiations, started almost a year ago, failed to bring about an agreement satisfactory to all parties, although Whitechurch township agreed in principle with Aurora and is awaiting an agreement. Whitechurch is meanwhile being served, if need be, by the Aurora fire brigade.

"The whole thing could be cleared up quickly by King council," said Mayor Underhill. "I know many ratepayers in King are ready and anxious to make private agreements with us for fire protection, but we cannot very well serve one without serving all. The council instructed the fire committee to prepare explanatory notices to be mailed to the ratepayers in King township who have been protected by the Aurora fire department."

"King council are sitting back thinking we will answer calls still, although the old agreement is cancelled, and they have failed to make a new one," said Councillor G. A. C. Guntton. "I know the farmers will understand our position. We can only govern our own affairs. King council must deal with township matters."

Don't Cross Bridges, Advises Ex-Mayor, Look Ahead-Mayor

Following the oath of office being administered by Clerk A. C. A. Will and divine blessing invoked by Rev. Canon F. J. Fyfe, Aurora town councillors took their seats for 1943 on Monday morning.

"People have their attention directed to things more important than municipal politics these days," said Mayor Frank Underhill in his inaugural address. "There is quite a lot of apathy too. If we are fighting to maintain democracy as we know it or to maintain our freedoms those on the home front must assume their responsibilities in civic matters. We have worked together as a council in harmony for two years. I hope we can do so again for another year."

"It is quite a change from the inaugural meeting of eight years ago to see relief costs now only $40.99 as compared to $1,507.25 then," said Reeve C. A. Malloy. "The times were bad then and even then, as now, farmers were complaining that they could not obtain sufficient agricultural help. Lack of agricultural help is not wholly due to the war but to a lack of planning as well."

"Our expenditures on relief, of which we obtained 20 percent from the government, saved us money on public works and enabled us to get work done we couldn't start now. I hope a plan for the future will be worked out to keep all employed."

"We must be prepared for heavy casualty lists this year," warned Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks. "Many homes will be saddened. There are few of the boys left in town and even more will be called up. We at home must keep things on an even keel."

"War activities occupy the first place in the minds of all now," said Councillor Ross Linton. "People expect good government at home to back up the war effort."

"Rationing problems are mounting and will be greater," declared Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Guntton. "We are asking our ratepayers to use less electricity, and the limited water supply on hand, unless augmented, will mean that all must curtail its use. We must get additional water this year."

"Social services will be more and more to the fore. The health of our people is secondary to no other internal problem. I hope that this council will do something about it and that our members at county council will get busy. Dependents of the soldiers do not get very much, but what about those on mother's allowance and old age pensions? They must get a better all-out war effort."

Thanking the guests, Mayor Frank Underhill said: "Constructive criticism is only way to make governing bodies change things as you want them. I believe the people of this country and throughout the world are looking to a different world with better opportunity for all."

"We will need to get ready for most of the problems before they arise or we will be in the same situation as we were after the last war, when there was no planning."

The mayor, reeve, deputy-revee and Councillors Linton, were appointed as a striking committee to draw up the committees in time for the evening meeting.

"We approved a police committee last year but did nothing about it," said Councillor Guntton. "Now is the time to deal with it."

"That will be a good idea," said the mayor.

Council Divides On Filling High School Board Seat

Aurora council committees, passed without any dissenting voice, are the same as last year except for two committees.

Councillor A. N. Fisher, in charge of relief last year, now heads the by-law and industrial property, while a new committee has been set up to cover relief, sewage disposal, sanitation and social services. The new committee is headed by Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Guntton.

The committees are: (first named are chairmen) finance, Sparks, Malloy, Cook; streets, Linton, Fisher, Sparks; water and fire, Cook, Guntton, Rowland; property, by-law and industrial, Fisher, Rowland, Guntton; social services, Guntton, Malloy, Sparks.

Ex-Mayor P. M. Thompson was named to the board of health for another term. Rev. Roy Hicks was appointed to the public library board replacing Dr. J. L. Urquhart, who resigned because of other duties.

The council had its first division of the year, and its first recorded vote of the year, on the appointment to the high school board A. M. Kirkwood, who has been a member of the board for over ten years, was replaced by Ernest Eveleigh. The two names were presented in the committee of the whole, Councillor A. N. Fisher with Mr. Eveleigh's name gaining a majority. When the by-law was presented to the council for final passing, Councillor Ross Linton requested the yeas and nays to be recorded.

The vote was Yeas (Eveleigh): Councillors Ross Linton, G. A. C. Guntton, Fred Rowland, A. A. Cook and A. N. Fisher; Nays (Kirkwood): Mayor Frank Underhill, Reeve C. A. Malloy and Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks.

"I do not recall a recorded vote on a by-law of this type for many years," Clerk A. C. A. Willis told The Era and Express.

Councillor G. A. C. Guntton requested the committee chairmen to name definite nights each month for consideration of committee business. Much time was wasted in the council because the committees had not considered matters beforehand, he felt.

Relief charges for December amounted to $47.70, and December hospitalization was $136.00. Clerk Willis told the council. Election expenses in connection with the Hydro by-law vote totalled $128.26.

Schomberg Mechanics Course Starts Jan. 21

The farm mechanics short courses which have been held during the past two weeks in the northern part of York county have proved to be among the most popular classes ever put on by the department of agriculture.

Interest perhaps was stimulated by the fact that no new farm machinery will be available and the farmers have realized that they must do everything they possibly can to put what new machinery they have into good repair, commented Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn. At Pefferlaw in spite of block-roads in some sections there were 45 attended the course. This was increased to 75 at Belhaven, and at Sharon on the first day there were over 90, with approximately 125 the second day. At Vandon yesterday there were around 65 present. An indication that those attending the courses are receiving information that appeals to them is indicated by the fact that there is usually over 25 percent increase in the attendance the second day.

This completes the courses in the north end of the county except for the Schomberg course, which will be on Thursday and Friday of next week and the King City course the following Monday and Tuesday.

THE EGG TRICK

The young woman from college was explaining:

"Take an egg," she said, "and make a perforation in the base with some suitable pointed instrument, and a corresponding one in the apex. Then, by applying the lips to one aperture and forcibly exhaling the breath, discharge the shell of its contents."

"Well, well," said the farmer's wife, who was listening, "it beats all how folks do things nowadays. When I was a girl, we just made a hole in each end and blew."

A GRACIOUS RIVAL

Modern political campaigners might take a lesson in graciousness and kindness from Edward Campbell, the great British statesman.

Once when Campbell was opposing Thackeray for a seat in parliament, the two contenders, in the course of their campaigning, met and engaged in friendly conversation.

On taking leave of his rival Thackeray remarked, "May the best man win!"

"Oh, no," replied Campbell.

ESCAPE TRAIN CHASE

Dr. W. R. Cameron, Cammington physician, and his two small children had a narrow escape from death when their car was missed by inches by a freight train as it level crossing one mile north of Pefferlaw on Sunday.

Dr. Cameron could not see the approaching southbound train as the windows in his car were frozen over. He heard the train just as it was "approaching" the tracks, and when he saw the car was snapped off a telegraph pole. The three occupants escaped with a slight shaking up.

SOLDIERS HAVE FINE CHRISTMAS DINNER

Canada's fighting men outside Canada fared all right on Christmas day if a menu forwarded to The Era and Express from Newfoundland by Pte. Floyd Yake is any criterion.

The menu listed: roast turkey with dressing and cranberry sauce, green peas, potatoes, tomato juice, pickles, hot mince pie, fruit cake, nuts and candy.

"It was just as good as it really," commented Pte. Yake on the margin of the printed menu. The song-sheet on the back included "The White Cliffs of Dover," "When the Lights Go on Again," and "Strip Tease Polka."

FLEURY ASSISTS ON GOAL BY FERGUSON

Sisman's clambered into three place in the Aurora town league hockey and Ordnance Depot took the cellar spot as the shooies, bolstered by Stan Walker and County Constable Aubrey Fleury, took the khaki warriors into camp, 7-4.

For two periods the teams matched goal for goal. In the final canto the smiles of Lady Luck deserted the depot boys and, with Barnard and Walker setting a tieing pace, the shoo-makers were not to be denied.

"Whitely" Jones combined with Barnard and Walker for the opening counter, which Fleury soon got back for the soldiers. Then the police decided it was time to take a hand and Alex Ferguson salted home a beauty, with Alex Rothwell the assist. Rothwell fired home the equalizer as the new record.

For the second frame, George Kinging replaced Murray Allen in the Sisman's net. Whitely put the Ordnance ahead as he took Townsley's pass but the lead was shortlived as Barnard wound up on the end of a Ferguson-Walker passing play.

Bob Townsley, on a picture play, opened the third period scoring, but the army boys were living fast and Barnard and Walker scored in that order. Play was wide open as the equalizer was sought in vain by the home boys and as a result "Mickey" Sutton and Barnard were able to bag two more markers.

Not a single penalty was handed out by Referee Ewart Plinder.

For Sisman's Walker, Barnard, Fleury, Ferguson and Rose were outstanding. Lieut. Marshall on defence, White, Rothwell, Farley and Townsley were best for the depot with Case strong in goal.

André's were minus Heavey and Blithrough and used fewer players to advantage. Ordnance, still in the experimental stage, tried out four new players, of whom two at least won their spurs in fine style.

RECEIVE SAILORS' THANKS

Members of the Aurora Navy League a few months ago sent 71 tiny bags to Canada's sailors, and the convenors, Mrs. Frank Underhill and Miss Anna Smith, have been pleased this week to get acknowledgements of their receipt and an expression of appreciation from many of the sailors. More letters come each day.

Don't Cross Bridges, Advises Ex-Mayor, Look Ahead-Mayor

Following the oath of office being administered by Clerk A. C. A. Will and divine blessing invoked by Rev. Canon F. J. Fyfe, Aurora town councillors took their seats for 1943 on Monday morning.

"People have their attention directed to things more important than municipal politics these days," said Mayor Frank Underhill in his inaugural address. "There is quite a lot of apathy too. If we are fighting to maintain democracy as we know it or to maintain our freedoms those on the home front must assume their responsibilities in civic matters. We have worked together as a council in harmony for two years. I hope we can do so again for another year."

"It is quite a change from the inaugural meeting of eight years ago to see relief costs now only $40.99 as compared to $1,507.25 then," said Reeve C. A. Malloy. "The times were bad then and even then, as now, farmers were complaining that they could not obtain sufficient agricultural help. Lack of agricultural help is not wholly due to the war but to a lack of planning as well."

"Our expenditures on relief, of which we obtained 20 percent from the government, saved us money on public works and enabled us to get work done we couldn't start now. I hope a plan for the future will be worked out to keep all employed."

"We must be prepared for heavy casualty lists this year," warned Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks. "Many homes will be saddened. There are few of the boys left in town and even more will be called up. We at home must keep things on an even keel."

"War activities occupy the first place in the minds of all now," said Councillor Ross Linton. "People expect good government at home to back up the war effort."

"Rationing problems are mounting and will be greater," declared Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Guntton. "We are asking our ratepayers to use less electricity, and the limited water supply on hand, unless augmented, will mean that all must curtail its use. We must get additional water this year."

"Social services will be more and more to the fore. The health of our people is secondary to no other internal problem. I hope that this council will do something about it and that our members at county council will get busy. Dependents of the soldiers do not get very much, but what about those on mother's allowance and old age pensions? They must get a better all-out war effort."

Thanking the guests, Mayor Frank Underhill said: "Constructive criticism is only way to make governing bodies change things as you want them. I believe the people of this country and throughout the world are looking to a different world with better opportunity for all."

"We will need to get ready for most of the problems before they arise or we will be in the same situation as we were after the last war, when there was no planning."

The mayor, reeve, deputy-revee and Councillors Linton, were appointed as a striking committee to draw up the committees in time for the evening meeting.

"We approved a police committee last year but did nothing about it," said Councillor Guntton. "Now is the time to deal with it."

"That will be a good idea," said the mayor.

Council Divides On Filling High School Board Seat

Aurora council committees, passed without any dissenting voice, are the same as last year except for two committees.

Councillor A. N. Fisher, in charge of relief last year, now heads the by-law and industrial property, while a new committee has been set up to cover relief, sewage disposal, sanitation and social services. The new committee is headed by Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Guntton.

The committees are: (first named are chairmen) finance, Sparks, Malloy, Cook; streets, Linton, Fisher, Sparks; water and fire, Cook, Guntton, Rowland; property, by-law and industrial, Fisher, Rowland, Guntton; social services, Guntton, Malloy, Sparks.

Ex-Mayor P. M. Thompson was named to the board of health for another term. Rev. Roy Hicks was appointed to the public library board replacing Dr. J. L. Urquhart, who resigned because of other duties.

The council had its first division of the year, and its first recorded vote of the year, on the appointment to the high school board A. M. Kirkwood, who has been a member of the board for over ten years, was replaced by Ernest Eveleigh. The two names were presented in the committee of the whole, Councillor A. N. Fisher with Mr. Eveleigh's name gaining a majority. When the by-law was presented to the council for final passing, Councillor Ross Linton requested the yeas and nays to be recorded.

The vote was Yeas (Eveleigh): Councillors Ross Linton, G. A. C. Guntton, Fred Rowland, A. A. Cook and A. N. Fisher; Nays (Kirkwood): Mayor Frank Underhill, Reeve C. A. Malloy and Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks.

"I do not recall a recorded vote on a by-law of this type for many years," Clerk A. C. A. Willis told The Era and Express.

Councillor G. A. C. Guntton requested the committee chairmen to name definite nights each month for consideration of committee business. Much time was wasted in the council because the committees had not considered matters beforehand, he felt.

Relief charges for December amounted to $47.70, and December hospitalization was $136.00. Clerk Willis told the council. Election expenses in connection with the Hydro by-law vote totalled $128.26.

MARKS 81ST BIRTHDAY

Milton Fleury, well-known Aurora resident, celebrated his 81st birthday on Friday.

Mr. Fleury was born in King township and was associated nearly all his life with his uncle and cousin in the J. Fleury plow works here. He is in fair health. His son, Harry, of Toronto, was present for the occasion.

RETURNS SOLDIER GETS FIREMAN POST

Cpl. Wilkie Fleury, 48th Highlanders, and brother of County Constable Aubrey Fleury, has been honorably discharged from the service because of ill health after two years' service overseas and has been appointed to this staff of the Toronto fire department.

FINDS AURORA MINISTER Leading Village Service

Sgt. Douglas Smith, a member of the famed R.C.A.F. squadron commanded by another Aurora boy, Sgt. Leander Lloyd Chubb, in letters to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, tells of a dinner at which he, Chubb, R.O. Bob Turp and Sgt. Dale King, now assigned to the 28th squadron, were an Aurora foursome.

In another letter he tells of attending a church service in an English village only to find the preacher was Pte. Lieut. G. O. Lighthorn, former rector of Aurora Trinity Anglican church.

A column of B.C. news in Canada on Sunday, Jan. 3, carried the speech of acceptance of a $25,000 Spitfire presented to the squadron.

EAGLE IS GIFT

Ex-Mayor J. M. Walton has presented a stuffed American eagle to the upper school library at St. Andrew's college.

N.C.O.'s Do Well

N.C.O.'s of C Coy. did well in the December examination held by the 2nd battalion of the Queen's York Rangers. Fifteen men wrote the examination and 13 were successful.

The successful candidates now are taking a course, which lasts until March on "Special to the arm." General results of the examination throughout the entire battalion were "splendid," according to Major Carl Reeve, O.C. of the regimental school.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Ivan Gibbey, junior member of the Sutton clan, who, while still a junior, formed a strong link in the Sutton Greenhairs intermediate championship chain last winter, is being counted on for a regular place with Barrie Colts in junior A this winter. Gibbey is stationed at Camp Borden and is still of junior age. We have no hesitation in saying that if Aurora had been able to use him last year he would have been the drive needed in the playdowns. Almost as big as and much faster than his older brother, "Bud," Ivan should prove a favorite in Barrie. Brother "Bud" is, of course, overseas.

Barrie has practically a new line-up in hand. Harry Lumley of Owen Sound is on hand for goal, Armstrong of Lindsay, Wilson of Marlborough, Klosky of Greenhurst, and McGuire of Ottawa. St. Paul are new additions. Borden Wheeler, perennial forward, McGill from Orillia, and Trooper George Fennell of last year's team are still available, although all three must be close to the junior borderline.

That looks like a better team for "Happy" Emmas to deal with than Larry Molyneux was provided with last year. Molyneux has promised to lend a hand with the Aurora Intermediate O.H.A. entry to be picked from the town league teams when the playdowns start. He will have no big stars but plenty of good material to sort out.

Russell Welch, who was a regular wingman the year Aurora went through to the junior C title and who has not played much since, has turned up playing senior T.H.L. commercial. Welch was a find of Charlie Rowntree's and filled the wing gap to perfection. His flaming red hair was popular with the fans. He is now playing on defence, having added quite a few pounds of avoirdupois.

Of that team, Ross Follitt is with King City, and Gordy Bone and "Duke" Dennis with Middlebrook's Aces. All three genuine farmers and doing a needed job. Bone, of course, was in the army and honorably discharged. Jim Cummings and "Joint" McComb, both defence workers, are stars in the West Toronto mercantile. Pete Donkin, now at H.M.C.S. York, is also playing mercantile. Frankie Carr, Joe McGehee, Frank Michanuk, Mervyn Broughton, Keith Knowles and Crowder are all in uniform and perhaps still chasing the elusive rubber wherever they may be.

Rural minor hockey is played each Tuesday night at Richmond Hill arena, with teams from Maple, Emery, Richmond Hill and Langstaff taking part. A lacrosse loop of a similar nature a few years ago died financially and this year's hockey circuit should prove no exception. Maple won the opener 3-1 from Emery.

As the latter center is near where Charlie Rowntree lives, don't be surprised if the rotund farmer gets back in the coaching end. Humber Summit had a rural team that went to the B finals from the same district.

Richmond Hill has two minor hockey teams, not one as we had thought. Jack Warwick of Richmond is coaching the midjet team, which is made up of district boys, while Jimmy Grainger is handling the minor-midjets, midway between midjet and bantam age, and all Hill youngsters. Both teams are entered in the T.H.L.

Irwin Brown, the mild-mannered Lening loy who played for Aurora juniors two years ago, has been promoted to corporal by the R.C.A.F. and is stationed at Estevan, Sask. The year previous to that he spent with Richmond Hill juniors, and '39 with North York A.C.

Harold McQuillan, who was signed with Aurora but played only one game last winter, is playing for Lening juniors this year, as is "Red" Linton, who looked like a future star late last season in practice.

Stew. Martin, originally headed for Aurora juniors but sidetracked to Etobicoke juniors has joined the R.C.A.F. Martin, a crack footballer, enlisted with his three backfield mates from Runnymede C.I. in one effort.

Vic. Alexander, who played useful hockey for Aurora juniors the past two years, has donned the blades again in mercantile. Alexander didn't get much of a chance last year, as Rowntree didn't count on him, but nevertheless he has quite a bit of ability and the year previous turned in some fine work.

who is a low category man, played goal for Sisman's on Monday night in their win over Ordinance and looked pretty good too. He was always a dinky felder, and gave indication last season that he was coming into his own as a hitter.

Doug. Palmer, the Maple boy who is currently starring for King City as he did last year, looks like just about the best forward in the group. He is big and fast, and is in fine shape as he also plays senior commercial in Toronto.

"Wink" Barnard, who with the exception of "Red" McArthur or "Feg" Kelly was the fastest skater ever to play junior hockey in Aurora or Newmarket, has returned to action after a lay-off of some years. Once he gets into condition, Sisman's will move higher in the Aurora town league.
He was a member of the Aurora team eliminated by Barrie Colts the first time they won the local junior group. After that he played briefly with Newmarket Intermediates. He still wears a wire guard for his glasses. Barnard was watched closely by professional scouts as a junior but given the knay because of his specs.

Wisdom was shown by Aurora council in raising the insurance on the town rink this winter. The rink was insured for much less than its value or little more than enough to cover the debentures, despite the fact it could not be replaced for what was originally paid. There is still over $5,000 to be paid off on the rink, and the insurance is set at $12,000. Shelburne and Bracebridge are two municipalities that have suffered the loss of their rinks this winter, and both were insufficiently covered for fire.

Orchids to the voters of Bradford who by nearly 15 to 1 voted in favor of purchasing the old rink for $2,300, thereby allowing the owners to get out with a fraction of their investment and preserving a place for the kids to skate in,
and future hockey stars to be started on their way. Don Willson, "Dodger" Collings and Ellis Pringle all learned to skate in the old rink.

Midweek intermediates, who visited Newmarket this week, are pretty much the same as last season despite losses to the armed forces. Jack Rutherford will have a strong team in hand again before the season is finished. Sib. Brodeur, Fawc. Wilcox, Joe Antonio, St. Amant, "Red" Badley and Bill
Stewart all saw action last season against Sutton Greenhairs. Valentine, Desroches and Moreau are from Newmarket, while Bev. Scott and several others will be out of retirement before long.

Five star rating for the local intermediate group of Brampton, Orillia, Newmarket soldiers, Angus armen and Midland Shipbuilders.
It is a well-balanced group and the winner will have a real chance for group honors. The first three teams are in the play-offs. Don't know what happened to Graven-hurst but expect they have been given a bye into the play-downs.
Brampton camp, who open tomorrow in Orillia and here on Tuesday, have landed Szabo, the sparkling centre of York Arsenal, Abrams, the Stockyards goalie, Burkhart, former U.T.S. player, and Huffman of Port Colborne in their new recruits, which is a pretty fair haul and tickles Lieut.
Bing Caswell immensely. It will be a bold man who will predict the winner. Odd to see Newmarket fans adopt the Camp Harker name, but it is a fact. Hope Aurora fans will treat Brampton ladders the same. But regardless of anything else the type of hockey that will be seen all winter should pack in the crowds.

Harvey Gibbey is coaching Roy Middlebrook's Aces this winter, and in their first start he handled them to perfection. He will probably get into action himself before too long or we miss our gun.
Some of these farm boys he has in tow look as if they may develop into something.

Whitley Bone, the sultan of swish, is due to make his appearance on the Aces' defence and the former Aurora and Newmarket junior will doubtless be the storm centre of lusty checking duels.
Next to Bill Roberts, Bone holds the title for bouncing the boys around.

"Foggy" Weatherall of Markham juniors is located at Simcoe now, and playing for the military centre of that town.

Markham juniors have won three straight and tied one in four games for a seven point start.
Milton has won three straight by one-sided scores, Bolton has won one and lost two, Unionville has tied one, and Royce Ave. won none in a round-up of the district junior O.H.A. group.

Enlo Schlitzel is back in the Milton line-up while his younger brother is holding down the goal job this season. Milton is still the team to beat for the group.

1 MOVIES PARADE

Columbia's "My Sister Eileen," based upon the uproarious stage success which has panicked the Broadways of the nation for two solid years, is said to set a standard for laughter the like of which filmgoers has never known before.

Rosalind Russell, Brian Aherne and Janet Blair are starred in the comedy, which opens Wednesday at the Strand theatre. The stellar supporting cast includes George Tobias, Allyn Joslyn, Miss Jeff
Donnell, Richard Quine, June
Havoc, Donald MacBride, Frank Sully, Gordon Jones, Grant Milchell and Elizabeth Patterson.

Miss Russell and Miss Blair are the two sisters, Ruth and Eileen, who come to New York to win fame and fortune as author and actress respectively. Ruth is a reasonably level-headed individual;
her kid sister is a blonde and devastating young woman, who manages to get into one difficulty after another. Both sisters complicate their life in New York by choosing as residence, a Greenwich Village basement apartment which becomes the happy hunting ground of every wolf in New York!

SWEET CAPORAL

"THE SWEETEST COOK IN KITCHEN
TOMATOES CAN BE BOILED"

THIS YEAR Put your brooder to work Earlier Than Ever Before

TO SERVE BEST and profit most from this year's urgent need for more eggs and more poultry meat, start good chicks earlier than ever before. Put your brooder to work 3, 4, or even 5 weeks ahead of your usual time! That will give you more time to look after them properly before the Spring rush
... more time to grow and develop them properly before Fall ... and give you bigger, better birds, laying bigger eggs when demand is highest and supplies lowest, next October and November.

ORDER WHAT YOU NEED EARLY

Be "forehanded." The days are few when you could walk into a store with a list and walk out again with all the goods you wanted. Check your equipment if you need anything—repairs, replacements, even a handful of malls—order them NOW. Make a systematic job of it, for if you everlook anything you can't count on making it good at the last minute.

Chicks are true of feed, fuel and chicks ... good chicks. Order in advance. And while you're about it, make sure they're GENUINE chicks. Don't waste time, work, or write

"SURE ...
I'M STILL INTERESTED IN TELEPHONES!"

"In case you don't recognize me, I'm Bill Smith, the man who installed your telephone. That's a long time ago now—but I'm still mighty interested in telephones. You see, I know how important they are when you have to get things done in a hurry. And that goes double in wartime. The men over here know you'll keep those lines clear for the Big Job."

LONG distance lines—especially those to war centres—are heavily loaded. Since further extension of facilities is ruled out by material shortages, it's up to every telephone user to see that war messages get first call.

So please follow the suggestions shown at the right. And above all, make only essential calls on those routes which you know by experience to be congested by war business—and be brief.

- ### HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP
- #### On Local Calls
1. Be brief ... clear the line for the next call.
 2. Consult your directory before you call "Information" for a number.
 3. Urge your family—especially the younger members—to avoid unnecessary calls.
 4. Be a "good neighbour" to the family which shares your party line.
- #### On Long Distance Calls
1. Avoid all unnecessary calls.
 2. Whenever possible, use off-peak hours: before 9 A.M.; 12 noon-2 P.M.; 5-7 P.M.; after 8:30 P.M.
 3. Plan your conversation before you lift the receiver—you'll save time and expense.
 4. Call by number whenever you can.
- These things may look trifling, but on a 6,000 daily telephone calls, they are very important.

Kidney Acids
Rob Your Rest
Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn on their sides and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys.
Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and cause nervousness, headache, backache, and sleeplessness. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills - for half a century the favorite remedy.

ICICLES

By GOLDEN GLOW
Never in my life have I seen such a crop of icicles as we had last week! Huge, thick long icicles that would split a man's head wide open if one fell on him. They fringe the edge of the roof on nearly every home in town, and, with all the snow we had as well, make pictures just like you see on Christmas cards, parking snow and crystal clear
icicles.

For two days we had it clear and cold (good and cold too!)
and with the pure white snow,
and the deep blue sky above, with the trees all festooned with snow wreaths - it was a picture
we will not forget very soon.
The snow was rather a surprise to us all when we got up a week ago Monday morning, and many a person tramped to work through snow up to their knees, for the snow-plow had a good deal of work to do that day and it was quite late before walks and roads were clear. However, by Friday all the main streets were clear, the town men had it all cleared away, and quite a few side streets as well.

But the icicles! They were not so easily gotten rid of! They hung from the corners of houses in most inaccessible places; they hung over windows with storm-sash on so that you couldn't get at them from an open window;
they hung by the dozens from the roofs of stores on Main St., creating a menace to pedestrians.

For days they hung, each day getting ever longer and longer, ever thicker and thicker, till some of them developed into most formidable weapons, and the powers that be were organized for a counter attack, and I trust we won out! I gather manpower did win out, for I have not heard of any accident, but I assure you they might have caused serious trouble instead.

NORTH GWILLIMBURY
TOWNSHIP TREASURER
ERWIN WINCH RESIGNS

North Gwillimbury township council held its first meeting for 1943 at Belhaven on Monday. A very limited audience was on hand to see the new council sworn in and get down to business, possibly because it was the third start for the same council.

The tender of R. J. Stork for maintenance of Keswick street lights and community hall lighting was accepted. The 1943 printing contract was awarded to The Newmarket Era and Express.

The council accepted the resignation of Erwin Winch, Bel-haven, treasurer, who has capably filled this office since 1935.
Mr. Winch gives up the office on account of pressure of other work. Tribute was paid to the good relations which had always existed between treasurer and council during his term of office.
It was then decided by the council that the work of clerk and treasurer should be consolidated in one office and accordingly
Fred Peel, Keswick, was appointed treasurer.

By-laws were passed to provide for township borrowings from the Canadian Bank of Commerce and the Bank of Nova Scotia. Carl Morton was appointed building inspector.

have been received from Wm.

still following his favorite sport,
hockey.

A letter received from Robt.
Arnold tells of the interest the boys take in the work of the church. Attending a service one Sunday evening, he says, he found the church half full of soldiers.

The increased attendance at church last Sunday was encouraging.

The friendly snow-plow has been doing its duty on the side-roads and the cars are now able to move about freely.

The second in a series of missionary addresses will be given in the United church on Sunday morning. The address entitled
"The Re-making of Man in Angola," will be illustrated with

Many of the villagers attended the funeral of the late Mrs.
Paton of Toronto on Saturday.
Mrs. Paton, who was Libby
Lewis before her marriage, was a Queensville girl and was well known in the village.

WE APPRECIATE WHAT

"Received two parcels of cigarettes from you, which were very much appreciated," L. Cpl.
C. H. Wright wrote the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund.

"Cigarettes are very hard to get and when I received them I was out of cigarettes as well as money, which is a very hard problem to contend with.

"Again thanking the Veterans' club on helping the boys overseas, as I'm sure they all appreciate your kindness in helping them get their smokes.

Mount Albert

After the second meeting to elect police trustees for the village, W. Robertson, H. Leadbetter and Thos. Allison are the town fathers for 1943.

Capt. W. L. Carruthers, M.O., Brampton military camp, was home over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Pearson received a cable this week from their son, Sgt. Pilot Jack Pearson, saying he had arrived at a new destination and was well.

The United church Sunday-school concert will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the church. A good program is being prepared.

Chas. Scott, Erastus Travis, Bruce and Carman Rolling left on Monday night to work on the new Alcan highway in Alaska.

Art Rolling came from Alaska by plane last week, having been called home owing to the illness of Mrs. W. Rolling, who has improved some since taking ill. Her daughter, Miss Stella Rolling of Claremont, is also home.

The following articles have been packed by the Mount Albert unit of the Red Cross this week: three boys' blouses, five prs. whole mitts, two prs. women's air force socks, two prs. 26" seamen's stockings, four prs. 18" seamen's socks, four prs. ordinary socks, two sleeveless sweaters, one woman's air force scarf, one quilt.

Owing to having packed 38 boxes for local boys in which they put knitted goods, the shipment this month was rather small.

The Red Cross room is open every Thursday for work. Ladies are asked to please try and help out with this needy cause.

Soldiers Put Blitz Tactics To Midland

for the camp. This one was scored on a break-away. Wheeler got an assist on the play.

Only seven penalties were handed out. Wheeler for the camp seemed to be the bad man of the night. He got two of them.

White in the Midland nets made numerous sensational stops, some of which bordered on the miraculous. His goal-tending a la Frankie Brimsek was the main factor in keeping the score down.

The Midland team showed up without sweaters and the game was delayed while somebody dug up some old green and white ones. The Midland coach explained to your reporter that their sweaters were ordered but didn't arrive in time.

Wheeler, a former pro, playing on defence for the camp headed right for the scorekeeper's box after every play on which he thought he merited an assist. He was just making sure that he got credit for it. This was our first glimpse of how the professionals work. Maybe the N.H.L. sportswriters are right when they say that players should have no say in who gets the assists.

This Wheeler's quite a hockey player though. He will be one of the outstanding stars of this group before the season is through. Last year he played with Happy Emms' Omaha club of the now defunct American association. He was born and brought up in Collingwood.

Played his first hockey there. One of the Detroit Red Wings scouts happened to see him playing there and they sent him to Guelph Biltmores when that club was a Detroit farm club. Last year he turned professional with Omaha, another Detroit chattel.

Bob Bangay is one of the cleverest stickhandlers in intermediate hockey. Bob and brother Nick pulled off some razzle-dazzle plays that Hap. Day could use with the Maple Leafs.

Nick Bangay ran into a dead-end body-check by Abbott in the second period and had to be taken off for repairs. Later in the game Antonio and Nick staged a little mix-up along the boards. No punches were thrown and Referee Bennett gave no penalty.

Attendance was 920 paid. More than 500 of these were men and women in uniform.

Newmarket: goal, Hughes; defence, Shaw and Wheeler; centre, Bob Bangay; wings, Nick Bangay and Nesbitt; alternates, Heenan, Nichol, Stuart, McMaster.

Midland: goal, White; defence, Abbott and Sager; centre, Wilcox; wings, Antonio and Brodeur; alternates, Simpel, Valentine, Henderson, St. Amund.

Referee: "Jock" Bennett.

JUNIOR LODGEMEN HOLD LADIES' NIGHT

The Junior branch of the Sons of England held their installation of new officers for 1943 in the lodge hall, followed by a banquet, on Monday evening.

It was ladies' night, which has become an annual event with the Junior lodge, when mothers of the juniors and wives of the seniors are invited to the meeting to watch proceedings.

One new member was initiated. The ceremony was watched with great interest by the guests, being essentially religious and patriotic.

The district deputy from Toronto, accompanied by two helpers, conducted the installation. Later all three made delightful speeches at the banquet table.

The district deputy has promised a wristwatch or its equivalent to the Junior bringing in the most members by next December. George Chantler is the president of the Juniors for 1943.

The Sons of England have the honor of counting former members of the lodge in all three branches of the services, besides having a former president a prisoner of war in Germany since Dieppe.

SUTTON HOCKEY TEAM WINS SECOND GAME

Sutton defeated Beaverton by a 6-2 score at Sutton Wednesday night to make their second victory in as many games. They defeated Pefferlaw in the opening game 7-0.

Beaverton gave the Sutton squad some real opposition and raised several questions what looked like certain goals. They showed real fighting spirit all the way.

The locals scored twice in the initial period on efforts by Roger Bell and Andy Loneragan.

After five minutes of the second period Andy Loneragan scored for Sutton's fourth goal. Beaverton made the score sheet three minutes later when Ken Reid, fast skating forward, rounded the defence for a well-earned goal.

In the final period, after 35 seconds of play, Lloyd Morrison made it 4-2 on a clever play. Geo. Holborn scored from close in for Sutton's fifth counter. Ernie Dunnage skated through and passed to Loneragan for the final goal of the game.

Sutton drew four penalties compared with none to Beaverton. Cec. Carpenter was the referee. Beaverton: goal, Jim Lynn; defence, Lawrence Clayton, Merrill Dukelow; centre, Murray Juffs; wings, Ken Reid, Ross Westcott; alternates, Bill Smith, Ivan McHattie, Don Ritchie, Lloyd Morrison, Jas. Taylor, Mel Drury.

Sutton: goal, Keith Dunne; defence, Ernie Dunne, Rex Sedore; centre, Andy Loneragan; wings, Geo. Holborn, Roger O'Dell; alternates, Joe Holborn, Dave Burrows, Jack Oliver, Charlie Brooks.

MANPOWER IS MAJOR FACTOR IN GOALS

STATEMENT IS ISSUED BY DOMINION-PROVINCIAL FARM CONFERENCE

(From the Rural Co-operator)
The availability of skilled farm manpower was recognized by the dominion-provincial conference at Ottawa recently as a major factor in determining whether or not 1943 food production objectives will be attained.

A statement, making specific recommendations for dealing with farm labor, was drafted by a special committee of the conference. The committee consisted of Hon. John A. McDonald, Hon. D. L. Campbell, Dr. Auld, Dr. Longman, A. Morin, W. H. Reek and H. H. Hannam. The latter was appointed chairman.

The statement dealt with in the final session was as follows: In view of the findings of this conference with respect to food requirements in terms of farm products to meet the needs of the civilian population in Canada, the armed forces, ship stores and other additional war services in Canada, and export commitments for the Allied Nations; and

In view of the fact that during the past year we fell short on our British contracts for bacon and eggs within the prescribed periods, and at certain times experienced embarrassing shortages of meat and butter to satisfy domestic demand; and

In view of the increased production required for 1943 in the face of a decreasing labor supply:

The conference is of the opinion that the urgent necessity for conserving and supplementing the skilled farm labor resources must be recognized and, in view of the misunderstanding and confusion which exist with respect to farm manpower, the importance of closer definition of the manpower policy as it is expected to apply to agriculture is evident.

With a view to contributing to the solution of the difficulties inherent in the farm manpower problem the following proposals are submitted for the consideration of the National Selective Service authorities:

1. That agricultural manpower policies be administered with the assistance of local farm committees, and the provincial departments of agriculture, working in conjunction with the employment and selective service offices;

2. That the initial setup which goes out to men in letters be reworded so that they can clearly understand what the letter means, in respect to their status as an essential agricultural worker, and state definitely by what procedure they should follow for obtaining deferment;

3. That all farm workers whose essentially has been established should be given some form of official recognition which would indicate they are performing an important war service;

4. That a much larger proportion of men on farms whose essentially has been established be granted the longest postponement term with each successive call;

5. That with respect to the national advisory committee on farm manpower to which the acting director of National Selective Service referred, this membership include one farmer from each province, and that the provincial departments of agriculture and the provincial units of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture be asked to nominate representatives for their respective provinces.

The conference would, therefore, recommend to the minister culture and the provincial units of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture be asked to nominate representatives for their respective provinces.

The conference would, therefore, recommend to the minister

A statement that these representatives be brought to the attention of the minister of

Rules For Profitable

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

1. Make your advertising copy easy to read, friendly and informative. People read newspapers for the news. Give them facts and news about your merchandise and services.

2. Advertise regularly. Do what successful salesmen do—call on customers and prospects consistently.

3. Protect your advertising investment by insisting on audited circulation reports that tell you just what circulation you get for your money. Guesswork is wasteful.

*In order that you may know just what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper, we are members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations. This is a national, co-operative association of more than 2,000 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, the purpose of the Bureau is to establish and maintain definite standards of circulation, audit the circulation records of the publisher members and report this verified information to advertisers.

Biennially, one of the Bureau's large staff of trained auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation. The verified facts and figures thus obtained are issued in an official A.B.C. report.

Our A.B.C. report tells how much circulation we have, where the circulation goes, how it was obtained, how much people pay for it and many other facts that you should know when you buy newspaper advertising. Thus, when you advertise in this newspaper your investment is in known and verified values.
